U. S. CONSUL ASSASSINATED

William B. Stuart Reported Killed by Dissatisfied Workmen

HE WAS AN ENGLISHMAN

BUT WAS EMPLOYED TO LOOK AFTER UNITED STATES' INTERESTS

In a Russian City—Ambassador to the Czar Will Investigate the Murder.

Batoun, Russia, May 21.—W. B. Stuart, American vice consul here, was assassinated at 11 o'clock last night.

Washington, May 21.—Wm. H. Stuart, aged 49, vice consul for the United States at Batoun, Russia, who was assassinated, was an Englishman and had never been naturalized as an American citizen.

Stuart was a partner of Famatticoch & Co., oil merchants at Batoun. Although holding only the rank of vice consul he was the head of the American consulate there. Under the new consular bill passed this year a regular consul will be appointed.

The state department this morning received a dispatch from Ambassador Von Meyer at St. Petersburg, stating that he had been informed by the British consul at Batoun that Stuart had been murdered. No details were given, however. The state department will not for the present, send any message of inquiry, believing Von Meyer will send the details as soon as they are procurable.

Should it develop that the Russian government was in any way responsible for the crime, by failing to provide proper protection for Stuart, due representations will be made by the state department through Von Meyer to the Russian foreign office.

Stuart was appointed to his official position May 4, 1904. The post is a minor one in the American consular service to which there is no salary attached, the incumbent being paid in fees. Last year the bill amounted to a little over $800. Stuart was engaged in business at the time of his appointment and was permitted to continue it along with his consular duties.

MURDER TRIAL OF GIRL WIFE

IS RAPIDLY DRAWING TO CLOSE AND SHE WILL KNOW
HER FATE

Within the Week, But at No Time Has She Shown the Least Emotion.

New York, May 21.—The trial of Josephine Terranova draws swiftly to a close and within the week the young Italian girl, charged with killing her uncle and aunt, will know the verdict of the jury. Only two minor witnesses will be called today and the girl will take the witness stand and tell the jury, sitting in judgment on her life, the horrid degradation of her life, all of which was brought about by Gaetano Riggio and his wife Concetta. The defense will call Giuseppe Terranova, the girl's husband. His story is awaited with much interest because he alone can tell whether the aunt and uncle tried to keep him from marrying the girl by telling him that she was not a good girl or that the girl, in her innocence, told her husband her aunt and uncle had embezzled her funds.

Not once during her trial has Josephine shown any emotion. She displayed no seeming anger at the testimony of her aunt Mrs. D'Alengo, who showed much feeling against the girl on the witness stand, nor was she moved in the slightest by the pathetic figure of her mother, who left a sick bed to aid her daughter on the witness stand. The girl was in indifferent spirits this morning in the tomb and there was much speculation as to how she would come out of a searching cross examination by the state's attorney.

BUSY WEEK.

Railroad Rate and Other Measures
Before the House.

Washington, May 21.—The railroad rate bill, the statehood bill, the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill, the naturalization bill, the pure food bill, conference reports on the army and Indian appropriation bills are all possibilities of consideration in the national house of representatives this week. The diplomatic and consular appropriation bill will be called up Tuesday, according to the present program. The diplomatic bill is a small measure and will require but a day or two at the most in consideration unless it is to be made the vehicle for set speeches. The rate bill is likely to be made the subject of more or less discussion when the motion is made to send it to conference. Just what will be the character of this discussion or the length of time it will occupy can not be ascertained with any definiteness. The conferees on the statehood bill indicate that a preliminary report to the two houses is a possibility for the not distant future.

STEAMERS COLLIDE.

Hamburg, Germany, May 21.—The German steamer Denderah collided with the British steamer City of Dresden in the port here today, sinking the latter vessel. The crew of the sunken steamer was saved. The damage to the Denderah is not known.

SUBMARINE BOATS FOR ENTIRE WORLD

Will be Supplied by America if Report of Kaiser's Experiments is Favorable.

Berlin, May 21.—Emperor William has ordered that exhaustive experiments with submarine boats constructed by the American builder Simon Lake, of Bridgeport, Conn., be conducted during the Kiel regatta week, beginning June 20. The emperor will personally supervise the experiments to decide whether Lake shall be awarded the contract to construct a number of submarines for the German navy.

Experts say Lake has produced the largest and best existing submarine boat. He is already supplying Russia and several other European countries with all their submarine vessels. If Lake secures Germany, as a consequence, as a result of the tests to be made next month, America will be supplying the greater part of the civilized world with submarines.

UTICA PASTOR GIVEN HEARING

COMMITTEE IS APPROVED BY ZANESVILLE PRESBYTERY TO TAKE ACTION.

Alleged Rev. Mr. Gay Peeped Into Windows of Certain Houses at Utica.

(Special to the Advocate.)
Utica, O., May 21.—Rev. Mr. Gay, pastor of one of the Presbyterian churches of this place, is this afternoon having a hearing before a committee appointed by the Zanesville Presbytery to investigate charges against him which were preferred several months ago.

Prominent Utica people charge Rev. Mr. Gay with peeping into their windows after nightfall and other conduct unbecoming of a minister. One man claimed that he would have done bodily harm to Mr. Gay but for the interference of his wife. When the charges were preferred last winter, Mr. Gay pleaded guilty and agreed to resign providing the church board would sign an agreement that in case he sought another position they would answer all inquiries in a manner not derogatory to Mr. Gay's character. This was agreed but later Mr. Gay decided to fight to retain his position. This action was taken after some of Mr. Gay's friends got together and urged him to do this.

The committee which has the case in charge is composed of the following clergymen: Rev. D. M. Ross of Zanesville, Rev. C. W. Wallace of Newark, Rev. Otis Harter of Fredericktown, Rev. G. W. Applegate of Newark and Elders S. W. Nicholas of Newark, F. M. Haynes of Hanover, and Wilmon Sperry of Mt. Vernon.

This matter has caused a sensation among the quiet people of Utica and it has been the talk of the town for several months, because of the fact that the charges were preferred by prominent people.

SWEEPING DENUNCIATION SURPRISES OFFICERS.

New York, May 21.—Army officers are somewhat mystified by the attack made on the service by Secretary of the Treasury Shaw in his recent address to the graduating class of the United States Revenue Cutter Service at Baltimore. Secretary Shaw's statement that if a man works for the government for hire he is of no use and that there is nothing that will take the native capacity out of a man as quickly as employment in any branch of the army or navy has aroused widespread comment and discussion. Major General James H. A. Wade, commanding the Division of the Atlantic, expressed himself as being entirely at a loss to understand the reason for this sweeping denunciation by the Secretary of the Treasury.

"He says here," said General Wade in his office on Governor's Island, tapping with his glasses at the same time a printed report of the address, "that West Point would be a good school to educate ministers. It seems to me that it is a very good school for the purpose for which it is used. I never heard of any cadet from West Point turning minister, but I have known a great many West Point cadets who have made extremely capable and valuable soldiers and accomplished feats for the country for which the whole nation should be grateful."

"Did you ever know an army officer who wanted to do good work to be suppressed at any time in such an endeavor, as Mr. Shaw states?" asked the reporter.

"No. I do not understand that reference at all. I do not know what it means. I cannot see what could be the purport of it. Army officers are constantly suggesting improvements and working hard over them. Artillery equipment is a very scientific affair, and these officers are studying it all the time. A good many of them are becoming skilled electricians and studying diligently in that connection explosives and everything that goes into the manufacture and use of modern guns and their equipment. The department is constantly getting letters from young officers and is always only too glad to adopt their suggestions."

SHOOTING AFFRAY RESULTS FATALLY

Washington, May 21.—One negro dead and two others injured, one of them probably fatally, is the result of a shooting affray which occurred in Rosslyn, Va., across the Potomac river from Washington. "Uncle" John Jones, colored, it is said started the trouble. He was killed by Constable Edward Vieth. Jones wounded Terry Godsey, 35, who is at Georgetown university hospital with probably fatal injuries, and Rastus Ransom, 20, who is suffering from a bullet wound in the shoulder. The quarrel first started in Washington between Jones and Ransom and was renewed in the Virginia hamlet. Jones had been drinking.

MARINES

To Be Sent to the West Indies.
Purpose Discussed.

Washington, May 21.—The cruiser Columbia, which is expected to leave Philadelphia today for West Indian waters with a detachment of marines, will make her first stop at the naval station at Guantanamo. On arrival there further orders will be given her. The officials of the navigation bureau of the navy department declined to indicate the purpose for which the marines are being sent to the West Indies, saying, however, that it has no bearing on the San Domingo situation.

CHAMP CLARK TO SPEAK.

Charlotte, N. C., May 21.—Beginning Monday and continuing until Thursday night the city of Charlotte and people from all sections of this and other states will join in an extensive celebration of the 171st anniversary of the signing of the Mecklenburg declaration of independence, promulgated here on May 20, 1775. It is said that great crowds will be present. The principal orator will be Hon. Champ Clark of Missouri. For the first time the president has extended official recognition by ordering here for the occasion cavalry, infantry, marines and the Marine band.

THREE ARE DEAD AS A RESULT OF A SHOOTING

The Trio Were Found in a Warehouse at Lynville, Ky., Lying on the Floor.

Mayfield, Ky., May 21.—A triple tragedy occurred at Lynville, this county. A visitor to the warehouse owned by Mark Wilson, a prominent merchant, found the proprietor, his brother, West Wilson and Arthur West lying on the floor shot to death. Revolvers were found beside the bodies of Arthur West and West Wilson. Two citizens reported that they had been at the warehouse and left the trio apparently on good terms although all had been drinking. The supposition is that West Wilson and Arthur West engaged in a shooting affray, killing each other, and that one of the bullets hit Mark Wilson.

COUNTESS CASTELLANE COMING TO NEW YORK

Confirms Report She Will Return to America With Her Sister, Miss Helen Gould.

Paris, May 21.—Countess Rod de Castellane confirms the report that she is coming to America with her sister, Miss Helen Gould. The confirmation was authorized counsel for the countess. That of the countess until she has been completely recovered from her illness, she is expected to leave for New York in a short time. A short time ago she was in Russia, sent to death for the murder of three.

MILLION DOLLARS LOST BY FIRE

Sanitary Utilization Company's Big Plant on Barren Island Was Totally Destroyed.

New York, May 21.—The plant of the Sanitary Utilization Company, covering two acres on Barren Island, in Jamaica bay, was totally destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000. The fire started in the drying room, and after the company's fire apparatus had failed to check the spread of the flames, two fireboats were sent from Brooklyn in response to an appeal for aid. Many tugs also came to the rescue, but so dense was the smoke that it was impossible for the boats to approach near enough to do effective work.

HOMELESS

Are Thousands as a Result of the Forest Fires.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 21.—A correspondent who made a tour of the district in the upper peninsula of Michigan covered by the forest fires in a special train, the first to go through the district since the catastrophe, telegraphs that the fire appears to be practically out in all of the district. The fire spread for a distance of 64 miles along the line of the Escanaba & Lake Superior railroad and for 30 miles beyond Channing, the western terminus of the road. It seems certain now that 2,000 persons are homeless in that district and that 1,000 are left homeless at Quinnesec.

INDICTMENTS

Name Prominent Men in the Oregon Land Cases.

Portland, Ore., May 21.—Details of the land fraud indictments returned by the federal grand jury April 9, and involving prominent men of Los Angeles, San Francisco and southwestern Oregon, were made public by United States District Attorney Bristol. The property alleged to have been fraudulently secured lies on the banks of Lobster and Lucher creeks, in Curry county, and consists of 6,000 acres, practically all in one tract, of fine timber land. The indictment charges conspiracy to defraud the government of timber land by securing entrymen to file upon the land with the intention of disposing of it to alleged conspirators, R. D. Jones and W. H. Smith of San Francisco; Jeremiah Humely, former United States commissioner in Curry county, Ore.; A. S. Johnston, formerly deputy county clerk of Curry county; W. T. Kerr of Coquille, Ore.; J. R. Miller of Port Oxford, Ore.; Warren Gilglen and R. W. Kenny, respectively president and cashier of the Broadway Bank and Trust company of Los Angeles; G. L. Stearns, formerly president, and J. C. Cross, director of the Pacific Furniture and Lumber company of Los Angeles; D. M. Goodwin and A. H. Meddery of Los Angeles; Richard Hynes, M. H. Riley and L. R. Ayers, stock brokers; W. D. Gould, attorney, of Los Angeles, and F. W. Dennis, broker, of San Francisco.

WATER WORKS ATTORNEY'S REPLY

To Board of Public Service—Reiterates Former Proposition for Appraisal of the Property.

On May 16th the Board of Public Service sent an ultimatum to the new owners of the water works for a price at which they would sell the property to the city.

In answer to the letter sent by the R. P. S. the local attorney for the new owners, Mr. F. M. Black sent the board today the following reply:

Newark, O., May 21, 1906.

To the Board of Public Service, of Newark, Ohio.

Gentlemen:—I have been in communication with Mr. Verill regarding your letter of May 16th, and beg leave to report that Mr. Verill refers to his conference with you on the fifteenth at which time he explained his inability to fix a lump sum for the plant.

Mr. Verill says further that he can immediately take up with the city the appraisal proposition made to you honorable body, viz. That each party appoint an appraiser, a third to be appointed by those two if they cannot agree; the city not to be bound to take the plant if the result is unsatisfactory; the plant to be appraised upon the basis of its adaptability to the needs of the city in connection with the new municipal plant. Yours truly,

FREDERIC M. BLACK.

AUSTRALIA

Said to Be Coveted By the Japanese.

London, May 21.—The Chronicle's Melbourne correspondent says that Senator Dawson, former minister of defense, has declined to accept the hospitality of the Japanese admiral of the training squadron visiting Australia. He explained that he did not wish to be disconcerted, but that he would not be a hypocrite, and said he believed the Japanese came to spy upon the land. Senator Dawson prophesies, says the correspondent, that Japan some day will endeavor to seize Australia. The correspondent adds that Mr. Dawson's action is condemned, but that his views reflect the secret fear of many Australians.

MISS GRACE FILKINS

New York, May 21.—Miss Grace Filkins has been engaged by Henry B.

RED WITH RAGE AT CZAR'S NOTE

Which Was Considered By the Deputies as Direct Challenge.

THE DEPUTATION IGNORED.

AND NICHOLAS SAYS DOUMA'S ANSWER TO HIS SPEECH

Must be Submitted Through the Ministry of the Court in Regular Form.

St. Petersburg, May 21.—Consternation was caused by a note received by President Mouroumstseff of the lower house of the national assembly from Peterhof which, instead of making an appointment for an audience at which he and the deputies could present the address in reply to the speech from the throne, contained the information that Emperor Nicholas would not receive the deputation and that the address must be presented through the ministry of the court. Disconcerted utterly at this unexpected development, the leaders of the majority in the house hastily summoned by caucus the Constitutional Democratic deputies. President Mouroumstseff, instead of sending the address to Baron Fredericks, minister of the imperial house, immediately issued a call for a meeting of parliament, at which he will report the occurrence and ask for further instructions.

The first disposition of the caucus of Constitutional Democrats was to regard the refusal to receive the deputation as a challenge and an open affront which was only answerable by a counter declaration of war. The deputies were red with rage, but after the first passion had cooled the leaders realized the danger of too precipitate action and set for themselves the task of bringing their enraged followers under control.

Outsiders were not admitted to the caucus, but through the glass doors of the great hall of the Constitutional club, where the session was held, it could be seen that Professor Milukoff, Prince Peter Dolgoroukoff and others were on their feet time and again pleading with and commanding their auditors to act deliberately and firmly and not ruin all by unreasoning passion. The cooler counsels seemed ultimately to be prevailing, but it is almost certain that the radical group, accompanied by a portion of the peasants, will break away and endeavor to force the house into some fiery declaration against the emperor and the government which might compel an immediate rupture, entail dissolution and civil war.

PLOT OF RUSSIAN OFFICIALS.

London, May 21.—The Tribune's St. Petersburg correspondent claims that he has obtained information of a plot that has been elaborated at large meetings of military officers to surround the Tauride palace, arrest all the members of the parliament and proclaim General Trepoff military dictator in the event of Emperor Nicholas failing to abolish the parliament.

POPE IS BETTER SAYS PHYSICIANS

Rome, May 21.—Dr. Laponi visited Pope Pius three times Sunday. The temperature of his holiness during the day was somewhat over 99 degrees. The pains incident to the attack have somewhat diminished and movement of the limbs is easier. The patient wishes to rise, but Dr. Laponi advises him not to do so, and his holiness acquiesces. Dr. Laponi considers the pope's condition as progressing satisfactorily and hopes the attack will soon be over.

RUSSIAN GENERAL

WILL BE EXECUTED.

St. Petersburg, May 21.—It is reported that the military court which is now investigating the surrender of Port Arthur and the battle of the Shewan pass, has condemned to death General Steessel, who commanded the Russian forces at Port Arthur and Rear Admiral Nebeloff who commanded one of Admiral Steessel's squadrons who surrendered during the naval battle of the Japanese.

The Miser of Bagdad

THERE was once an old merchant of Bagdad, named Abou Casen, who was famous for his avarice. Although he was very rich, all the clothes he wore were patched and mended in many places, and his turban, made of coarse linen, was so greasy and dirty that it was impossible to tell what its original color had been.

But the most surprising part of his costume, the things that deserved to be the most noticed, were his slippers. The soles were studded with large nails, the upper leather consisted of a number of small pieces joined together, and for the ten years that they had existed as slippers the most ingenious cobblers of Bagdad had spent time and skill in making the poor remnants hold together. They had, therefore, become so heavy that they grew into a proverb, and whenever people wished to give an idea of great weight, the slipper of Casen were brought forward as a comparison.

It happened one day, when Casen was passing through the public market of the city, the purchase of a large amount of crystal was proposed to him, and he at once closed with it. Some days after, having heard that a ruined perfume's last hope lay in the sale of a quantity of rose water, he took advantage of the poor man's misfortune and bought the rose water at half its value.

These profitable transactions having put him into a good humor. He thought it better, instead of giving a feast (as is the custom of eastern merchants), to go to the bath, where he had not been for a long time.

While he was undressing one of his acquaintances told him his slippers rendered him the talk of the whole city and that he himself would, in the end, be obliged to give him another pair.

"It is quite time that I should think about it," answered Casen, "but after all, they are not so worn that they cannot still serve my purpose," and so saying he finished undressing and entered the bath.

While he was washing himself the cadi of Bagdad also came there to bathe. Then Casen, having made an end of his ablutions, returned to the first room and put on his garments, but vainly did he seek for his slippers. Instead of their being where he had left them they had got pushed away into some corner, and in their place lay a pair of new ones.

Whereupon our miser, quite believing that this was, what he would have wished it to be, a gift from the person who had just been admonishing him, put them on without more ado, and, nearly beside himself with joy at being spared the expense of buying others, he left the bath.

When the cadi had finished bathing his slaves sought everywhere for their master's slippers, but in vain. They only succeeded in finding some filthy ones, which were at once recognized as Casen's. The doorkeepers immediately ran after Casen and he being deemed a thief, was taken as such, was led back to the cadi and for this exchange of slippers sent to prison.

In order to escape out of the claws of justice he was obliged to open his purse pretty widely, and as he was held to be as rich a man as he was a miserly one you can easily believe he did not get off very cheaply. The cadi, after Casen on reaching home took his slippers and flung them in a rage into the Tigris, which flowed beneath his windows.

Someday after, when certain fisher men were drawing up a net, they found it heavier than usual, and, lo, Casen's slippers were in it and, moreover, had torn the meshes of the net.

BIG RAILWAY TERMINAL

Plans of Superb Pennsylvania Station For New York.

CONVENIENCE THE MAIN IDEA

New Building Will Be So Arranged That the Best Possible Service Can Be Obtained—Compared With Sky-scrapers It Will Be Low, but Impressive—General Waiting Room to Be a Giant.

Plans for the new Pennsylvania railroad station in New York city have been perfected, and a description of the great building and its surroundings has been issued by the company. Although the station structure when completed will appear low, its scope and architecture will make it impressive—a wide departure from the conventional railway station, says the New York Herald.

The exterior construction is to be of pink Milford granite, similar to the building stone of the Boston Public Library, the University club in New York, the courthouse in Pittsburg and the Chamber of Commerce in Cincinnati.

The main entrance, according to the plans, will be in the center of the structure in Seventh avenue, opposite the intersection of Third-second street. This will be for foot passengers only, and from the street entrance to the stairway to the main waiting room there will extend an arcade 225 feet long and 45 feet wide, flanked by shops, which will be occupied by merchants whose wares will appeal especially to the requirements of travelers.

On either side of the Seventh avenue entrance there will also be a series of stores. At the further end of the arcade the restaurant, lunchrooms and the cafe will be established, with proper kitchens and service connections. Beyond will be the general waiting room and the concourse, all easy of access by convenient stairways. Apart from the main entrance there are other convenient entrances for foot passengers from the street level to the general waiting room and concourse from both the streets and the avenues. At a central point in both streets wide bridges leading into the street floor of the station span the carriage subway.

The general waiting room, the largest of its kind in the world—320 feet long, 110 feet wide and 150 feet high—is the central section of the plan. Adjoining the general waiting room on the west are two subsidiary waiting rooms, 58 by 100 feet, respectively for men and women, provided with seats and opening into retiring rooms, with lavatories attached.

To the east of the general waiting room the main baggage room, with 450 feet of frontage for the use of the transfer wagons, is located, covering the full area occupied by the arcade and restaurants on the plane above. The baggage is delivered and taken away through a special subway thirty feet wide, extending under and along the entire length of Third-first street and Seventh and Eighth avenues. From the baggage room trunks are delivered to the tracks below by motor trucks and elevators. The cab stands will also occupy this level. There will be maintained an ample service of electric vehicles of varying capacities to meet the requirements of travelers.

Parallel to and connecting with the main waiting room by a wide thoroughfare and west of the subsidiary waiting rooms is the concourse, a covered assembling place over 100 feet wide, extending the entire width of the station and under the adjoining streets. This may be termed the vestibule to the tracks, as two sets of stairs descend from it to each of the train platforms on the track level. The concourse and adjacent areas are open to the tracks, forming a courtyard 340 feet wide by 210 feet broad, roofed by a lofty train shed of iron and glass, similar in design to the famous train sheds of the new stations in Frankfurt and Dresden, Germany. In addition to the entrances to the concourse from the waiting room, there are also direct approaches from Third-first and Third-third streets and Eighth avenue.

The third level, which is at a depth below the surface of the street corresponding to the height of a four story building, is the track level. When the two tracks emerge from the tubes under the Hudson and reach the entrance to the station yards at Tenth avenue they begin to multiply, and at Ninth avenue and extending into the station the total number has grown to twenty-one. There is also a reduction in the number of tracks leading out of the station to the east to a total of four for the main line, two passing under Third-second and two under Third-third street, and thence under the East river to the Long Island City yards. The track surface of the station may be compared to two unfolded fans joined together at the open ends, the handle of one extending under the Hudson and that of the other under the East river. Within the station area, covering twenty-five acres of ground space, there are sixteen miles of tracks. This trackage area will afford ample facilities for easy movement of many hundred trains a day by electric power.

Through trains from the western side of the Hudson after discharging passengers will proceed at once to Long Island City, where the train yards and terminals will be located, thus leaving the station tracks clear of any idle equipment, and likewise the westbound through trains made up at the Long Island City terminal will pass through the station, stopping only to take up their quota of passengers.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

HARD TO REALIZE ON.

We dream of a time when our ship shall arrive
With spices and such in the hold;
We dream of a mansion, we dream of a farm,
We dream of a barrel of gold.
One dream fades away, but another comes on.
And always of rosier hue,
But we would, I venture, fall dead with surprise
If one in a thousand came true.

We dream of the time when the people shall call
In tones that we cannot but hear
And say, "Here's an office, just take it, although It's only five thousand a year."
Of castles in Spain or the Isles of the sea
Or some other place far away
But none of our dreamings comes round to make good.
Though we work at it eight hours a day.

We dream of a maiden with wonderful eyes,
Who can for the asking be had;
Or if we're a lady we dream of a prince
With a noble and wealthy old dad.
We dream of a house with a spacious front yard
On Easy or some other street.
And sometimes we venture to dream of a dream
That places results at our feet.

We dream of a time we shall rest on our oars,
Sit down and look work in the eye
And say to it: "You are no longer for us.
Begone; take your knitting and fly."
We dream in our playing, we dream at our work.
At mealtimes we get in a few,
But we would, I'm certain, fall dead with surprise
If one in a million came true.

Unusual.

"He was born in a log cabin and went barefoot until he was seventeen."

"And he isn't president of the United States?"

"No."

"So, what's the use?"

TRIP TO A CORONATION

Chicagoans Will Attend Regal Ceremony In Norway.

GAY FESTIVITIES AT TRONDHJEM.

Well Known Norwegian-Americans Will Bear a Hymn of Greeting to the New King and Queen—Resolutions, Elegantly Engraved, to Be Presented—Nation's Old Glory Will Be Splendidly Revived.

Six Chicagoans will visit the ancient cathedral of Trondhjem, in Norway, June 22 to see crowned King Haakon VII, the first king of independent Norway for several centuries, says the Chicago News. Five of them will be members of a deputation selected to represent the Norwegian National League of Chicago. The sixth will be Frederick H. Gade, the Norwegian consul in Chicago, who has received his leave of absence permitting him to attend the ceremonies in his official capacity. They bear to the king and queen a hymn of greeting from Norway's "children who are separated from the mother's breast by the great western sea." An effort will be made to have it sung in the cathedral during the coronation festivities.

The Chicago party will carry an elegantly engraved and bound copy of resolutions expressing the joy of Norwegians in America over the dissolution of the union with Sweden and their hearty congratulations for the king, the queen, the crown prince and the entire people.

Aside from Mr. Gade the members of the deputation are Paul O. Stensland, chairman; Dr. Niles T. Quales, vice chairman; Dr. Anders Doe, secretary; Olaf E. Ray and Adolph Opsted. It will be the duty of the chairman to present the resolutions to Premier Michelsen.

Definite plans for the trip to the mother country and the programme while there have not yet been made. The main body of the deputation will leave Chicago on May 22 and sail from New York on the Hellig Olav on May 24, arriving on June 4, in Christiania. Mr. Stensland will not sail from New York until June 2, and the consul will leave Chicago on June 7.

The six men will meet in Christiania and proceed together to Trondhjem, pausing on the way to pay their respects to Bjornstjerne Bjornson, the poet and dramatist, at his country seat, Aulestad, in Gudbrandsdalen. They will also visit Gerhart Gade, Consul Gade's father, at Frogner, his estate near Christiania.

The Chicagoans will present Bjornson with a large silk American flag lettered in gold. During the festivities following the coronation Mr. Stensland will give a banquet to the members of the Norwegian ministry and the municipal officials in the Grand hotel. Further than this the definite programme is not arranged.

Norwegian-Americans are proud of the hymn which they are preparing to give to the king. It was composed by Odin Renning of Milwaukee expressly for the occasion and is stately in measure. The words have not yet been selected. A contest is being held, and all of the Norwegian poets in the United States have contributed verse to go with the music. A committee has been appointed to select the poem that will give the setting. The members are: Consul Gade, chairman; Dr. Thomas Warloe, John Benson, Emil Bjorn, Dr. Anders Doe, Professor Julius Olsen of the University of Wisconsin, Abraham Abrahamson, president of the Norwegian National League of Chicago, and Nicolay Grevstad, editor of Scandinavian.

When this is finally arranged designs for a cover, title page and heavy marginal decorations will be prepared by Emil Bjorn, the artist, assisted by Henry Tolzien and Ben Blessun. The whole will then be engraved on steel and a print made on vellum. It will be bound in leather and provided with a handsome leather case. In this shape it will be presented at court.

Members of the deputation say words cannot describe the enthusiasm in the minds of Norwegian people all over the globe at the revival of the old Norwegian glory after a number of centuries.

For three centuries after 872, when Harold Haarfager was made king, the Norse rulers were crowned in the open air or in rude temples. Then the great cathedral was built. Several times it was set on fire, but never totally destroyed, and the major part of it as it stands today has withstood the ravages of 800 years. The newest part, as restored from time to time, is 200 years old. During the important periods of Norway's history Trondhjem was the seat of the government. While many of the kings of Scandinavia during the old union were crowned there, some of them were not.

It is now the place to revive all the old glory of the plan with a burst of splendor unequalled since the days of the banquet hall of Olaf the Great, described in the sagas. Variety in the gorgeous costuming of the court will be offered by the crown prince and others next the thrones of Europe who will represent their governments at the coronation.

Music will play a prominent part in the proceedings, and the most noted of Norway's composers are working on the coronation cantata. Recent advices from the Norwegian capital say that the aged Laumers, the greatest singer Norway has ever produced, will sing a solo in that production.

Difficult Operation.

John Kelley of 182 Pine street, who has been in the employ of the Pan Handle railway company for the past 25 years, underwent a very difficult operation in the removal of a cancer from his mouth, by Dr. Mrs. Walkett of Milford Center, O. The operation took place at the home of Mr. Kelley and Dr. Walkett will remain there for a few days in attendance on him.

Lost Child Found.

Considerable excitement was created in the vicinity of Tenth and Locust streets on Sunday evening about 8 o'clock by the disappearance of Gerald, the little three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Williams of North Buena Vista street. Mrs. Williams, with her little son, had been visiting at the home of Mrs. F. J. Hall, corner of Tenth and Locust streets. The little fellow was engaged at play in the back yard. His mother missed him and the police were notified. About eight o'clock Officer Callan found the child on Union street, near the railroad crossing, and returned him to his mother.

WEDDINGS.

JENKINS-WILSON.

The marriage of Miss Blanche Mae Jenkins of Putnam avenue, Zanesville, and Mr. Clarence E. Wilson of this city, was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The marriage service was read by Rev. W. W. Ely, pastor of the Fair Oaks Baptist church.

Mrs. Jenkins is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Jenkins and is a young woman of many charms and accomplishments. She is very popular among her associates, who unite in extending congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. Wilson is a brilliant young newspaper man, and holds a responsible position as a news writer with the Newark American Tribune. He was formerly employed by the Sunday News company of Zanesville and later by the Signal. Recently he won many encomiums for himself by his very excellent report of the Dickerson murder case at Coshocton for the Times Recorder.

After a wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Wilson came to Newark, where they will be at home to their friends at No. 164 South Second street.

METZGAR-EMSWILER.

Martinsburg, May 21—Miss Ada Emswiler, a highly esteemed young woman of this place, and Prof. A. C. D. Metzgar, of Gambier, were married in Utica on Friday by the Rev. Mr. Chapman. The bride has been employed in the grammar department of our schools during the past year, while the groom is a prominent educator of this county, and at present is an instructor in Kenyon Military academy. The happy couple will make their future home in Utica. They have the best wishes of all their friends.

SPECIAL MEETING.

The Newark Liquor League will meet tomorrow (Tuesday) at two o'clock, at Druid's Hall. All saloon keepers are invited. Frank Caff, President.

Fire at Macon, Ga., destroyed the cotton compress of the Georgia Central railroad, together with about 2,000 bales of cotton and 50 loaded freight cars. The loss is $125,000.

Gems In Verse

OLD FAVORITES.

Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep.
Rocked in the cradle of the deep,
I lay me down in peace to sleep;
Secure I rest upon the wave,
For thou, O Lord, hast power to save.

I know thou wilt not slight my call,
For thou dost mark the sparrow's fall,
And kindly stars have given
Roused me from sleep to wreck and death.

In ocean's caves still safe with thee,
The germ of immortality.
And calm and peaceful is my sleep,
Rocked in the cradle of the deep.

A Health.

I fill this cup to one made up
Of loveliness alone.
A woman, of her gentle sex
The seeming paragon;
To whom the better elements
And kindly stars have given
A form so fair that, like the air,
'Tis less of earth than heaven.

Her every tone is music's own,
Like those of morning glades.
And something more than melody
Dwells ever in her words;
The coining of her heart are they,
And from her lips each flow
As one may see the burdened bee
Forth issue from the rose.

Affections are as thoughts to her,
The measures of her hours;
Her feelings have the fragrance,
The freshness of young flowers,
And lovely passions, changing oft,
So fill her she appears
The image of themselves by turns—
The idol of past years!

Of her bright face one glance will Trace
A picture on the brain,
And of her voice in echoing hearts
A sound must long remain;
But memory, such as mine of her,
So very much endears,
When death is nigh my latest sigh
Will not be life's, but hers.

I fill this cup to one made up
Of loveliness alone.
A woman, of her gentle sex
The seeming paragon;
Her health! And would on earth there
Be more of such a frame,
That life might all be poetry
And weariness a name!

The Birthplace of Burns.

[Written in his cottage at Ayr.]
Though Scotland boasts a thousand names
Of patriot, king and peer,
The noblest, grandest of them all
Was loved and cradled here.
Here lived the gentle peasant prince,
The loving cotter's king,
Compared with whom the grandest lord
Is but a titled thing.

'Tis but a cot roofed in with straw,
A novel made of clay;
One door shuts out the snow and storm,
One window greets the day.
And yet I stand within this room
And hold all thrones in scorn.
For here beneath this lowly thatch
Love's sweetest bard was born.

Within this hallowed hut I feel Like one who passes a shrine,
When the glad lips that have touched
The something deemed divine,
And here the world through all the years,
As long as day returns,
The tribute of its love and tears
Will pay to Robert Burns.

Turn, Fortune, Turn Thy Wheel.

Turn, Fortune: turn thy wheel and lower
The proud;
Turn thy wild wheel through sunshine,
storm and cloud;
Thy wheel and thee we neither love nor hate.

Turn, Fortune: turn thy wheel with smile or frown;
With that wild wheel we go not up or down;
Our hope is little, but our hearts are great.

Smile and we smile, the lords of many lands;
Frown and we smile, the lords of our own lands;
For man is man and master of his fate.

Turn, turn thy wheel above the starting crowd;
Thy wheel and thou are shadows in the cloud;
Thy wheel and thee we neither love nor hate.

The True Companion.

Give me the man, however old and staid
Or worn with sorrow and perplexity, Who, when he walks in sunshine or in shade,
By woodland bowers or bare beach of the sea,
O'er hilltop or in valleys green with me, Throws off his age and gambols like a child.

And finds a boyish pleasure in the wild,
Rejuvenescent on the flowery lea.
Him shall the years press lightly as he goes.
The kindly wisdom gathered in the fields
Shall be his antidote to worldly woes,
And the overflowing joy that nature yields.

To her true lovers shall his heart incline
And blurt the shafts of care like iron arrows.

The Simple Life.

Gives not the hawthorn bush a sweeter
shade
To shepherds looking on their silly sheep
Than doth a rich embroidered canopy
To kings that fear their subjects' treach-ery?

Oh, yes; it doth; a thousandfold it doth.
And, to conclude, the shepherd's homely curds,
His cold, thin drink out of his leather bottle,
His wonted sleep under a fresh tree's
shade,
All which secure and sweetly he enjoys,
Is far beyond a prince's delicacies.
His hands sparkling in a golden cup,
His body couched in a curious bed,
When care, mistrust and treason wait on him.

Morning.

Will there really be a morning?
Is there such a thing as day?
Could I see it from the mountains
If I were as tall as they?
Has it feet like water lilies?
Has it feathers like a bird?
Is it brought from famous countries
Of which I never heard?
Oh, some scholar—oh, some sailor—
Oh, some wise man from the skies,
Please to tell a little pilgrim
Where the place called morning lies!

—Charles Mackay.

GRANVILLE NEWS

Granville, O., May 21—One of the most charming and delightful social events of the past week was that on last Saturday evening when the young ladies of the Junior class of Denison university entertained the young men of the class at the Mitchell residence on Prospect street. The spacious lawn was brilliantly lighted and presented a beautiful sight. Here punch was served. Some very original and interesting games made up the diversions of the evening. The affair was most enjoyable in its every detail and those present had a most delightful time.

The annual commencement exercises of the Byesville High school will be held Thursday evening, May 24, at 7:30, at the Byesville opera house. The music for the occasion will be furnished by a ten piece orchestra from Cambridge, under the leadership of F. B. Amos, and the address will be delivered by Prof. Charles L. Williams, dean of the English department of Denison university, Granville, O. Prof. Williams is well known in these parts as an able educator and charming speaker and the Byesville people are to be congratulated over their success in securing him.—Cambridge Jeffersonian.

Prof. Douglass Johnson, a former student of Denison university, a cousin of Prof. W. H. Johnson, and who is a professor in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, together with his wife, have been spending some days at the home of Mrs. Ewart, this place.

Who recalls to mind that only a few days ago we were shivering around fires and gauging forth each morn upon a first, bitter landscape? In this connection we are glad to say that the fruit on the hill has not been injured as badly as it was first supposed to be.

Mr. Charles R. Roads, who had the misfortune to sustain severe burns about the head and face a few days ago, at his home, by an explosion of natural gas, is rapidly recovering from his injuries.

Prof. C. L. Williams, of the department of English Literature, occupied the pulpit of the Welsh church, this place, on Sunday and preached an eloquent and instructive sermon on "Christian Patience."

Quite a number of Granville people went to Johnstown Sunday to attend to the services incident to the dedication of the new Baptist church of that place. Mr. Don Clyde Kite, a member of the Senior class of Denison, is the pastor of the new church. Summer jaunts are being arranged and several parties of Delaware people are beginning to point over their "small change." Making readiness for their rest in other "places" and with other people.

Professor of English Literature in Denison university, C. L. Williams, has received the annual check from Mrs. Annette R. Jewell, of Seneca Falls, N. Y., for the purchase of books for the department of English Literature.

Miss Bertha Miller of Springfield, O., made a short visit with Granville friends.

Dr. G. H. Woods spent Sunday with his family in Granville.

Ms. C. J. Rose left for Dayton to attend the Baptist anniversary.

The Mission Band, composed of a number of little girls in charge of Miss Mabel Butterfield, picnicked in the woods north of the village on Saturday and had a most enjoyable time. The membership of the Fortnightly club held a picnic at the home of Dr. J. L. Gilpatrick Saturday at which a fine program was carried out.

The oats fields and clover fields are filling out farmer friends with apprehension that both crops will be blighted if rain does not soon make its appearance.

After a pleasant visit with relatives and friends here, Mrs. L. C. Powers has returned to her home in Muncie, Ind.

Prof. C. L. Williams of Denison university will deliver the address at the High school commencement at Byesville, O., on Thursday night of this week. On Friday evening he will deliver the commencement address at Pleasantville, O.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Browning of Cleveland, who have been making a short visit here with friends, returned home last Saturday.

Quite a number of the rock ribbed Democrats of the vicinity were in attendance at the May Meeting in Newark last Saturday.

The annual Senior-Faculty game will be held on Beaver field Wednesday afternoon of this week.

The trees about town are all budding and will be in bloom by Decoration Day if no frosts come to nip them in the bud.

Mrs. L. B. Frore made a short visit with friends of Canton, O., last week.

Millard Campbell, the guest of his brother-in-law, is a new Baptist church which has been dedicated.

An interesting service was held at the church of Denison university, the pastor of the church, has been most of the field.

The Village Station.

Coming into the suburban village by the steam railroad, one's introduction to it is the station. This should be made attractive both in its architecture and in its gardening surroundings, but it should not have a commanding situation in respect to the town. It is partly in protest against the things that the railroad exemplifies and stands for that the town is populated. The railroad is a convenience that must be made use of, and we may soften all we can its points of contact with the town, but even so its steel touch will leave a scar that should not be emphasized. In a suburb, at any rate, direct ways of communication from various parts of the town should focus to the station, but the ideal would be to have them center in the concourse radiant with flowering shrubs, behind a bank of which the little station would be half hidden. The vista down the various streets would not then suggest hurry, noise and dust, but a pleasant, resting place, a little park, where babies might be brought to meet their fathers returning from work in the city.—American Homes and Gardens.

Lectures For Children Gardeners. A campaign for the beautifying of Racine, Wis., has been opened by the members of the Twentieth Century club, which last year awarded prizes to school children for the handsomest and best showing made by them in the production of gardens, says the Minneapolis Journal. Mrs. Charles M. Smith, chairman of the village and township improvement committee, has completed details of a competition for the ensuing season. Seeds have been purchased, and will be distributed among the children. An added feature of this year's campaign will be a series of lectures by a lecturer of wide experience in gardening, who will illustrate his ideas with stereoscopic views. These lectures are designed to give the children ideas of how to plant and care for their gardens in order to get the best results.

Of deceitful ancestry is the word "asphalt." Apparently it means "not slippery." The Greeks themselves were tempted to derive "asphaltos" from "a," not and "sphallo" make to fall or slip. However, the word is really of unknown barbarian origin. Phoenician, some say. Asphalt was in use very early in the history. It is said to have been the slime with which the infant Moses' ark or bulrushes was daubed, and which the builders of the tower of Babel used instead of mortar.

All the hatcheries of British Columbia have secured a full supply of salmon spawn, and by the erection of fish ladders a very large district has been opened that had been cut off from the salmon for a number of years. The number of young salmon that will go to the ocean this year will be far greater than in any previous year, and an exceedingly large run may be expected in 1907.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Of Candidates To Be Voted For at the Coming Democratic Primary Election.

The following gentlemen, whose names appear in this column under this heading, announce themselves as candidates for the offices designated respectively, subject to the decision of the Democracy of Licking county at the coming primary election:

For Congress,
J. B. JONES.
WILLIAM A. ASHEROOK.

For Sheriff,
WM. LINKE.
W. F. HOLTON.

County Clerk
J. W. HURSEY (second term).
County Commissioner,
GEO. T. TAVENER, (of Eden Tn.)

Infantry Director,
B. D. JACKSON (second term).

CANDIDATES FOR JUDGES

Endorsed By the Licking County
Democracy at the Annual May Convention of Saturday.

At the annual May meeting of the Democracy of Licking county held on Saturday the Judicial committee reported delegates to the Circuit Court and Common Pleas conventions and unanimously endorsed Hon. Maurice H. Donahue, of Perry county, for re-election as Circuit Judge, and Hon. T.
B. Fulton of Newark, for Common Pleas Judge.

The report of the committee was received with enthusiasm by the convention and unanimously adopted.
Judge Donahue, who has made a splendid record on the Circuit court bench will, of course, be nominated for re-election by acclamation when the convention meets. He is immensely popular in every county in the district.

The presentation of the name of T.
B. Fulton as Licking county's candidate for Common Pleas Judge was a wise and timely action on the part of our Democracy at the Saturday convention. Mr. Fulton is one of the ablest, safest and most successful lawyers in Central Ohio. He possesses a rare judicial mind and both as a lawyer and a man he stands for the strictest honor and integrity. That he is admirably well qualified for the office of Common Pleas Judge goes without the saying. If elected he will discharge the duties and responsibilities of the office without fear or favor and with an eye single to the public welfare. In fact he will be an honor to the Common Pleas bench and a credit to his party and the people of the entire district.

LICKING COUNTY'S CHOICE FOR CONGRESS

New Method Adopted at Saturday's May Meeting For Naming the Candidate and Delegates.

The action of the May Meeting on Saturday in determining the manner of selecting a candidate for the Congressional nomination and the delegates to the district convention, establishes a new precedent in Licking county politics. The method adopted Saturday provides that the candidates for congress must go before the Democratic primaries and that the voters of the party shall have the right to vote directly for their preferences, the candidate receiving the highest number of votes to be declared the county's choice at the Congressional convention and to have the right to choose his own delegates at said convention.

This method has been adopted by the other counties of this district for a number of years, and the same has already been done by the other counties the present year. This method, thus adopted by the other counties, has always placed Licking county's candidates at a disadvantage at the district conventions.

For this reason many of our Democrats have desired that Licking county be placed on an equal footing with the other counties of the district, which is now assumed by the action of last Saturday's convention.

The adoption of this method of choosing the county's candidate and selecting the delegates to the district convention was so nearly unanimous that the best of feeling prevailed over the convention's action.
Licking county will now present a solid front at the next congressional convention in this district with a splendid chance of securing the nomination.

That the earthquake which destroyed San Francisco was an important factor in determining the vote of the Senate committee on interoceanic canals in favor of a sea level type is apparent from the fact that a feature of the majority report is a discussion of the effect such an earthquake might have on locks and dams, the majority report favoring a sea level canal. A hard shock by earthquake, it seems, can bring even United States senators to the level.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer's Washington correspondent tells of the change that has come over the junior senator from Ohio who has decided that Carmi Thompson, speaker of the Ohio house of representatives, should withdraw from the race for the Republican nomination for secretary of state which will be made at the next state convention, and the correspondent adds that the other politicians in the Ohio congressional delegation agree with Dick since there has been a discussion of contingencies that might develop. Thompson's nomination and election would reduce the Republican majority in the house to one which would result in a deadlock on joint ballot, and if another Republican member died or resigned the Democrats would be in control at the next session, this legislature holding over another session. According to the correspondent, Dick and his friends view with alarm the faintest prospect that the Democrats might be in control of the legislature, and they suggest the possibility of some contingency arising to create a vacancy in the Senate and accordingly agree that Thompson must retire, this after his visit a short time ago to Washington to confer with Dick and seek his permission to enter the race.
The opposition to Thompson which has developed in Washington after he made announcement of his candidacy by permission is not of a personal but a political and intensely partisan nature. There are Ohio Republicans who would doubtless like to know what is the contingency that might arise to create a vacancy in the Senate of which the junior senator and his friends seem afraid.

Democratic Congressional Convention.

The Democrats of the Seventeenth Congressional District of Ohio will meet in delegate convention at New Philadelphia.

On Wednesday, June 6, 1906,
At 1 o'clock p. m., to nominate a candidate for Representative in Congress from said district. According to the basis of representation fixed by the committee, the several counties will be entitled to the following number of delegates:

Coshocton	38
Holmes	26
Licking	65
Tuscarawas	64
Wayne	53

Total 247
The Congressional Committee selected C. J. Fisher of Millersburg as temporary chairman and Joe McDowell of Coshocton as temporary secretary. By order of CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE.

The Marquis of Graham, who was persuaded recently by his fiancée, Lady Mary Hamilton, Britain's greatest heiress, to run for Parliament, failing of election, though the lady campaigning vigorously for him, is now known as "Mary's Little Lamb."

MAMMOTH GILMORE MEMORIAL.

Patrick S. Gilmore

New York, May 18.—Not since the late "Pat" Gilmore's death, fourteen years ago has New York seen anything like the mammoth concert which was given to the famous band-master's memory in Madison Square Garden Tuesday night. Ten thousand people made up the great audience, which filled the flag draped aisles to overflowing and stretched solidly across the floor.

No Trouble is Feared When Mines Re-open in Jefferson County—Suicides to Avoid Arrest—Monnett's Denial
—Young Girl Murdered at Akron—Other News.

Cleveland, O., May 21.—Cleveland operators who are interested in the reopening of the mines in Jefferson county and other points in the vicinity of Steubenville declared their belief that the mines will be put in operation without the expected clash between the strikers and the detectives and other nonunion employees of the operators. President T. E. Young of the Ohio operators of the Pittsburgh vein said that while his mines are not included in those to be opened, he was familiar with the situation and he saw nothing to indicate trouble. He declared that reports concerning a possible conflict between the miners' organization and the employees of the operators had been exaggerated, and further that many of the miners have been anxious to accept the offer of the operators but have been prevented by President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers from doing so.

Steubenville, O., May 21.—Two more carloads of nonunion men were brought into the neighborhood of the United States Coal company's Plum run mines. An attempt will be made to open the mines and run them non-union. No trouble was experienced by the men or the mine officials, although the strikers stood about in a sullen attitude. Another lot of nonunion men are expected. All the new arrivals are closely guarded by deputies, of which there are about 50 at the mines.
The mine workers remain firm in their refusal to return to work, and mass meetings were held throughout the eastern Ohio district.

Monnett's Denial.
Columbus, O., May 21.—Frank S.
Monnett, special counsel employed by the government in the investigation of the Standard Oil trust, left for Cleveland, where he will spend the entire week looking into the transactions of the Standard Oil company in Ohio.
Regarding the episode at Bucyrus last week, Mr. Monnett made a sweeping denial of the charges of Judge Tobias, who instructed the grand jury to investigate the ouster suits against the Hocking Valley and Ohio Central railways, with which Mr. Monnett was connected as attorney. Mr. Monnett also denied a report of papers in this case being stolen and of threatened suits against the attorneys who filed the ouster proceedings.

Clevelanders in Auto Wreck.
Erie, Pa., May 21.—One woman is dead and three other persons are in the hospital here in a serious condition as a result of an automobile accident on the lake road, near Grand view. The accident occurred about a mile east of Springfield, on a piece of roadway that is particularly favorable to speeding. In turning a sharp curve the machine crashed into a telegraph pole, throwing the occupants out, and the machine turned over on top of them. Mrs. Julia G.

Young, 26, wife of Albert W. Young of Cleveland, is the name of the dead woman. All the victims reside in Cleveland.

Girl Was Murdered.
Akron, O., May 21.—The finding of the dead body of Minnie Brendt, 19, of this city, led to the arrest of Leo Die-bel, 26. According to the police Diebel has confessed that he killed the girl.
Miss Brendt had been missing since last Thursday and her body was found hidden away in a haymow. Diebel, the police say, told them that he kept the girl secreted in the haymow for a few days endeavoring to hit upon some plan to avoid disgrace to both her and himself, and that he wanted to marry her but his mother opposed it. He says he finally shot the girl.

Indorse Hurst.
New Philadelphia, O., May 21.—At the Tuscarawas county Democratic convention former State Senator J. E.
Hurst of this city was unanimously indorsed for the congressional nomination in this, the Seventeenth district, and empowered to select his own delegates to the convention, which meets in this city on June 6.

Union of Baptists.
Dayton, O., May 21.—Definite steps to bring about union of the Baptists and Free Baptists were taken by the American Baptist Home Mission society, in session here. The committee appointed last year to consider a plan for co-operation and possible union reported that after conferences a joint committee unanimously agreed that since the two denominations are closely related and the original cause of separation had disappeared, the committee should recommend a free interchange of members and ministers and the extension of a cordial invitation to the Free Baptists to co-operate in evangelistic, educational, missionary and all other denominational work in the hope that a complete organic union of these bodies might be consummated in due time. This recommendation was unanimously adopted by the home mission society.

Bullet Near the Heart.
Marietta, O., May 21.—John West, 30, is in the hospital with a bullet near the heart, and John Buck, charged with the shooting, is at large with a posse of men hunting him with bloodhounds. Buck had been tormented by West and a number of companions, who pulled his house with stones. Buck lay in wait with a gun and when the tones began to rattle against the house he fired, and West fell. Buck escaped in his bare feet to the woods, leaving a note that he in-

Shot Twice.
Wooster, O., May 21.—As the result of trying to force an entrance into the house of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Belle Mahoney of this city, William Strauss, a telephone lineman, was shot twice by Edward Mahoney, a printer, and stepfather of Strauss' wife. One bullet lodged in Strauss' forehead, the other in the back of the head. Strauss is believed to be fatally wounded.

Born in Zanesville.
Leon, Ia., May 21.—Mrs. Mary Ann Perigo, aged 103, said to be the oldest white person in Iowa, died here from blood poisoning resulting from a scratch of a pet cat. She was born in Zanesville, O., in 1802, and came of a family noted for its longevity, her father dying at 114 years and his father at 120. She is survived by five generations of children.

To Avoid Arrest.
Cleveland, O., May 21.—While constantly were searching the house of W. K. Flanders of Colwood, a suburb of this city, with a warrant for his arrest on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses, Flanders committed suicide by shooting himself.

Destroyed by Fire.
St. Clairsville, O., May 21.—The tip-ple, powerhouse and generator of the Purslove coal mines, three miles north of here, were burned, with a loss of $30,000.

President Palma's Inauguration at

Decide to Take No Part in the Cer-

Anniversary of Independence.

Washington, May 21.—At the Cuban legation, the fourth anniversary of the Independence of the island was celebrated at a banquet given by Minister Quesada, the guests including Secretary Root, Senator Foraker, Admiral Schley and the diplomatic representatives of the various American republics. Some interesting declarations of sentiment were made not only concerning Cuba, but also regarding the relations of all the American republics. Mr. Quesada in a brief speech told of the services rendered by the United States to Cuba and the latter's recognition of what this government had done for the island and its people.
Secretary Root described his visit to Cuba four years ago when arranging for the transfer of the sovereignty from the military authority of the United States to the new republic. He also discussed the coming Pan-American conference at Rio de Janeiro and his prospective visit to South America. Primarily, he said, it was to enable him to get better acquainted with those countries, and he hoped that it would result in a better understanding by them of the United States and by the United States of them. Secretary Root said that the United States had no desire for one inch of the territory of any of them, and the example of the policy carried out toward Cuba, he thought, should be taken as evidence of this government's disinterested policy in desiring to promote better relations with all the Latin-American countries and to help them in their progress.

TAKES THE OATH.
President Palma Duly Inaugurated.
Liberals Stay Away.

Havana, May 21.—President Palma was inaugurated in the presence of the diplomatic corps, cabinet officers, senators, congressmen, judges, heads of departments and the representatives of economic, agricultural and commercial associations. None of the liberal members of congress attended. The inauguration ceremony took place in the red-salon of the palace.
The oath of office was administered by the chief justice of the supreme court in front of a dais on which were seated eight supreme judges and the court officials. President Palma, who appeared to be in the best of health, entered the salon as the bell was striking the noon hour. The guns of the Cabanas fortress pealed forth a noisy welcome to the incoming administration, and this was reinforced by the screeching of many whistles, cheers of the crowd outside and the music of the bands playing the Cuban national anthem.

Prisoners Escape.
Chattanooga, Tenn., May 21.—By sawing through the steel bars that covered the windows, 11 general prisoners escaped from the guardhouse at Fort Oglethorpe. They each had prison terms of from two to five years ahead of them. They had been brought here from southern posts preparatory to being sent to Fort Leavenworth for permanent confinement.

Funerals Drive Strike.
New York, May 21.—A strike of the funeral drivers' association local number 164, which involved the territory of Manhattan below Fourteenth street, went into effect Sunday. The fact that 12 of the 35 coach owners affected acceded to the demands of the strikers lessened the inconvenience that might have otherwise resulted.
As it was about 30 funerals had to be postponed, and those that were held were conducted under difficulties.

Five Persons Drown.
Chattanooga, Tenn., May 21.—Five persons, all connected with one of the prominent families of James county, Tenn., were drowned as the result of the overturning of a boat in the Tennessee river. The catastrophe occurred near Norman, a village about 12 miles north of Chattanooga. The drowned are: Mrs. Edgar Miles of Chattanooga, Mrs. Sim Eldridge, Mary Eldridge, DeWitt Eldridge, Abel Mc-Gill.

Case of Murder.
Pleasant Hill, Mo., May 21.—The body of a man about 30 years of age, at first supposed to have been killed by a train, was found near a Missouri Pacific bridge a short distance west of this city. Before the coroner's jury Dr. Prentiss, local surgeon for the Missouri Pacific, gave it as his opinion that it was a case of murder. The verdict of the jury has been withheld pending further investigation.

Could Not Unite.
Mexico City, May 21.—The report that the National Bank of Mexico and the Bank of London and Mexico were to be consolidated is officially denied.
They could not unite by reason of the provisions of their respective charters, and besides, the policy of the government is to encourage banking competition.

PRISONERS ARE STILL IN JAIL

COLLINS AND KERLIN FAILED TO GIVE THE $5000 BOND REQUIRED.

Each Defendant Recently Convicted of Manslaughter Was Sentenced to Ten Years.

George Collins, found guilty of the killing of Homer Loar in the degree of manslaughter, and George Kerlin who was convicted of the same crime in connection with the death of Chas. Higgins, and who were sentenced to 10 years each in the penitentiary Saturday by Judge Seward, have so far failed to give the required $5000 bond and are still confined in the county jail.

On Saturday the court passed upon the various grounds set forth in the motions, and overruled each. Counsel for the defendants, Webster and Mulholland of Toledo, made a plea for mercy, which was very forcible, the attorneys arguing that they did not believe the defendants fired the shots, and that the verdict returned, manslaughter was a compromise verdict. The court reviewed the cases, going exhaustively over the testimony, and stated that he didn't believe there were any errors of law occurring at the trials, the fact being that no arguments were made to the court as to any criticism of his charges in either of the cases. The court sentenced each defendant to the penitentiary for 10 years. The execution of sentence, upon motion, was ordered suspended upon giving bond for $5,000 in each case, until the matter can be presented to the Circuit court and leave given to file petition in error in that court.

Restraining Order.

Frank McKee has begun suit against Oscar M. Mikesell, George P. Harsh and John Martin. Plaintiff says that on the first of May, 1906 the defendant, Harsh, assuming to be a justice of the peace in Perry township, proceeded to impeach a jury and try an action at law; a verdict was returned in favor of Mikesell against plaintiff. That an execution was issued and levy made. Plaintiff says that Harsh is not a duly elected, qualified and acting justice of the peace, that he did not within 10 days after his election enter into a bond approved by the trustees as required by law, and that no judgment was rendered on the return of the verdict. The court issued a temporary restraining order, enjoining the levy upon property of plaintiff and the sale thereof. Smythe & Smythe.

Guardian Appointed.

Ferd Youse has been appointed guardian of Martha C. Vietmeier and Karl Vietmeier, minors, by the probate court.

Decree of Divorce.

The divorce case of David A. G. Moore was tried in the Probate court. The charges were gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. A decree was granted the plaintiff on the grounds named. T. B. Fulton, attorney for the plaintiff.

In Common Pleas.

State of Ohio vs. Wm. Sparks, indicted for disarranging a switch on the B. & O., plea of guilty and fined $25 and costs and to stand committed until paid.

In the case of City of Newark vs. Frank A. Bolton, city solicitor, and Royal C. Bigbee, et al, which is the suit brought in regard to the deposit of city money in several banks in this city, the court held that the ordinance under which the letting was made was not inconsistent with the statute as amended; that the statute

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also a convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name of Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Trade With Australasia.

Washington, May 21.—A report made public by the department of commerce and labor says: Trade between the United States and British Australasia in the fiscal year 1905 aggregated $38,000,000, against $34,500,000 in the preceding year, $32,000,000 in 1900 and $14,000,000 in 1895. Statistics compiled by the department of commerce and labor through its bureau of statistics show that imports from British Australasia have grown from $4,666,000 to $12,000,000 in 1905, and exports thereto in the same period from $9,000,000 to $26,000,000. For nine months of the present fiscal year the exports are about $2,000,000 in excess of the same months of last year.

New Civic Association in Montclair.

The Town Improvement Association of Montclair, an organization composed of 600 women, with the object of improving civic affairs, has disbanded, says the New York Sun. The association had been in existence for about fifteen years. At its last meeting, however, it was the unanimous opinion of the members that still better results would be accomplished by the formation of a society that includes men as well as women. A new organization has been formed under the name of the Montclair Civic association. Twenty-nine well known men and women have been named to elect officers.

OBITUARY

SAMUEL A. SCOTT.

Word was received in the city of the death of Samuel A. Scott, a former resident of this city, at his home in Alameda, California, May 2, aged 80 years. Mr. Scott was one of the earlier California pioneers going to the state in 1849 in company with six other Newark men, Wm. Roe, Neal Updike, Henry Sanborn, Edward Haughey, John McDaniels, Brad Carlisle. They took the trip to California around Cape Horn, the journey taking seven months.

Mr. Scott has returned to Newark several times on visits, but has remained in the state of California since 1849.

The deceased is survived by his wife and two sons.

HENRY SHULTZ.

John Gilmore left Monday afternoon for Lake View, Logan county, to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, Henry Shultz, who died Sunday.

MR. WESTLAKE'S FUNERAL.

The remains of the late Charles Westlake whose death occurred on last Friday evening, caused by falling from his engine, were taken to Brinkhaven, O., at 8:10 Monday morning over the B. & O., for interment Tuesday. The remains were accompanied by the immediate family of the deceased.

MRS. TILLIE GILLESPIE.

The funeral services of Mrs. Tillie Gillespie, wife of L. A. Gillespie, deceased, and a sister of Dr. H. M. Wagner of this city, took place at her late home 274 Elmwood avenue, on May 14, 1906, conducted by Rev. J. B. Bovey, interment in Cedar Hill cemetery, aged 47 years, 6 months and 15 days. There remain to mourn three children, Delmar, John and Mrs. Peterman, an aged mother, eight brothers and one sister. She was converted and joined the United Brethren church at the age of 15 years. She died in the triumph of a living faith and has gone home to her reward.

MARTHA ELLEN SAWYER.

Martha Ellen White was born Oct. 23, 1838. She resided with her parents at Fultonham, Ohio, for a number of years. They then removed to near Brownsville where they lived some years. She was married to John H. Sawyer September 12, 1869 at Hebron. To this union were born one son and two daughters, one daughter dying in infancy. She became a member of the church in April, 1877, of which church she remained a faithful member until her death, which occurred May 15, 1906. She was aged 67 years, 6 months and 22 days. She leaves her husband one son, one daughter, three brothers, one sister and four grandchildren to mourn her departure. Her last illness was from broken limbs caused by a fall. She suffered and lingered for twelve weeks, when her spirit departed to the God who gave it.

The funeral, conducted by her pastor, or, assisted by Rev. T. N. Madden, was held at her late home in Hebron, Thursday, May 17 at 2 p. m., interment being made in Hebron cemetery. W. H. Mitchell, pastor of the M. E. church, Hebron, O.

MRS. CHANEY ROSS.

Martinsburg, May 21.—Mrs. Allie McCammett Ross, wife of Mr. Chaney Ross, died at her home about one mile east of this place on Sunday evening, after a lingering illness of Bright's disease. The deceased was aged about 32 years and is survived by her husband and three small children. Her parents are dead but she leaves two brothers, Lester and Jacob McCammett and two sisters, Mrs. Zona Hook and Mrs. Maggie Woodruff to mourn her death. The funeral will take place from the Presbyterian church, this place, on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock and the interment will be made in the adjoining cemetery.

MRS. JOSEPH GRAHAM.

Mrs. Joseph Graham, aged 29 years died about noon Monday at the Sanitarium where she had been taken for the purpose of undergoing an operation. The deceased resided seven miles northeast of the city and leaves a husband and one child. The funeral will probably take place Thursday.

JESSE CLARK.

The funeral over the remains of the late Jesse Clark who died at his home in Pataskala on last Friday, took place from the Baptist church at Kirkersville Sunday, Rev. H. Newton Miller of this city officiating. The deceased was aged 72 years. There remains one daughter, Mrs. E. K. Morrow.

AUGUSTA VAN ALLEN.

Augusta, daughter of Zibe and Lucinda Van Allen, was born June 18, 1879, died May 15, 1906, aged 26 years, 10 months and 27 days. She was united in holy wedlock to Adam R. Irwin on June 13, 1895; to this union were born four children, May, Wilhe, Harry and baby Ross, all of whom survive the dear mother. Her pleasant, kind and amiable disposition gained for her a host of friends who today are paying their last tribute of respect to one of whom nothing but kind words may be spoken.

She had been for some years past in very delicate health, but she bore her suffering with patience, never murmuting nor complaining, but always ready and willing to bestow some act of kindness on those about her. Many in this audience here today will remember the time Gustav was converted and neither did she forget it, because when prostrated on her bed of affliction and just before she entered the eternal city of God, she broke forth with shouts and praises to her Master and exclaimed, "Oh, I am so happy!"

She united with the Methodist Protestant church at Gratiot, in 1905 under the pastorate of Rev. D. C. Wees, and as long as health and strength permitted, she regularly attended the services of the church, but now her spirit has taken its flight to Him who gave it and we today gently lay her body in the silent tomb, knowing that at the great day, when He comes to make up his jewels, Gustav will appear among the brightest. The Master saith "Come unto me all that weary and are heavy laden and I will give you rest."

PASTOR HANDS IN HIS RESIGNATION

WHEN CONGREGATION REFUSED TO UPHOLD HIM IN HIS ACTION.

Rev. Wm. A. Roush Refused to Accept a Letter from Mrs. E. M. Critchfield.

(Special to the Advocate.)

Mt. Vernon, O., May 21.—Pastor William A. Roush of the Vine Street Christian church of this city exploded a bomb shell in his congregation at the morning service Sunday when he submitted his resignation. The action of the pastor came when the congregation accepted a letter after it had been turned down by Rev. Mr. Roush. Several months ago, Mrs. E. M. Critchfield, wife of Judge Critchfield of this city, presented her letter from a Croton, Licking county, church, Pastor Roush refused to accept the letter or receive Mrs. Critchfield officially into the church on the grounds that she was a divorced woman before she married Mr. Critchfield. He referred the letter to the church board.

Sunday the board reported on the matter and ordered the acceptance of the letter and Mrs. Critchfield as a member of the church. After this move, the pastor representing the church organization put the matter before the congregation for their vote and the members voted to accept the letter. Mr. Roush immediately submitted his resignation. It has not been accepted but in all probability will be next Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Roush came to Mt. Vernon several years ago from Gloucester, O., and since taking the pastorate of the church, the church has been removed, the members increased and other improvements on the church made. With many the members he was very popular.

Irwin Taylor, president of the savings bank at Newport News, Va., committed suicide at home. He was charged with defrauding in the sum of $10,000.

CUTTING AFFRAY SATURDAY NIGHT

HARRY KALE, A B. & O. CONDUCTOR, BADLY CUT ON THE NECK.

The Trouble Occurred at the Corner of Sixth and Railroad Streets. No Arrests Made.

Another serious cutting affray occurred on South Sixth street about midnight Saturday in which Harry Kale, a B. & O. conductor, whose home is in Cincinnati, was badly cut on the neck and is now under the care of physicians at the Sanitarium.

The story of the affair is peculiar, but as is told by Kale and two companions, was as follows: The three were passing the corner of Railroad and Sixth streets when a man stepped up to them and asked if they had any tobacco. Kale replied that he had not, whereupon the other remarked, "Well, you needn't be so saucy about it." The three then were going to pay no more attention to the stranger and his companions, if he had any, when without any warning the one man stepped up behind Kale and stabbed him in the right side of the neck, the wound being dangerously near the jugular vein. McGonagle's ambulance was called and Mr. Kale was hurried to the Sanitarium where Dr. B. F. Barnes took four stitches in the wound.

This story of the affair is the only one that can be learned and very little is said by the parties concerning the trouble. The matter was not reported to the police, but it is believed to have been more serious than is claimed.

FRANK FERGUSON WAS ARRESTED

VETERAN NEWSPAPER REPORTER WAS A VICTIM OF HIS FRIENDS

And Was Presented With a Fine Chair by His Co-Workers of Two Offices.

Mr. Frank L. Ferguson the dean of the newspaper corps, was placed under arrest Saturday afternoon, about 5 o'clock by Officer Zergiebel who stated that he had a warrant ordering the reporter's detention as a witness in a case before Mayor McCleery.

"Fergie" had been "doing" the Democratic May Meeting and had had a strenuous day. He started to leave the Advocate office to get the five o'clock car for his home in Granville, and was just about to leave the office door when he was stopped by the officer.

Editor J. H. Newton of the Advocate, immediately volunteered to go on Frank's bond for any amount, but Officer Zergiebel was insistent upon an immediate cash bond of $200, and would accept no check for the amount. "Fergie" had by this time broken out in a cold perspiration, and it was suggested that he sit down for a few minutes. Mr. Newton led the veteran reporter to the rear of the room with the remark, "I'll stand with you Fergie," and gently forced him into a handsome new Morris chair, which Frank well knew was not a piece of the regular office furniture.

Mr. Newton then in a few words presented Mr. Ferguson with the new chair.

The recipient could hardly respond to the presentation but finally thanked the donors for their consideration.

Frank Ferguson on Saturday celebrated his twenty-fifth anniversary as a reporter on the Advocate, and every employee of the Advocate and American-Tribune was interested in the occasion. A committee went to the Bell-Dana company and told Manager H. C. Fox that they wanted the handsomest and best chair in his big stock, which was then purchased and presented to the faithful reporter as a memorial of his silver jubilee as a new writer on one paper.

SCROFULA AN INHERITED MISFORTUNE

Every one has a hereditary right to a pure blood supply, which insures a strong, healthy body; but how many do we see who have inherited that greatest of all misfortunes, Scrofula, and are struggling under a legacy of disease and suffering? Scrofula is a constitutional trouble handed down from parent to child, a curse from generation to generation as long as the scrofulous matter is allowed to remain in the family blood. As the very foundation of the blood is diseased we see this awful affliction manifested in many ways, such as enlarged glands or tumors about the neck, which often burst and become discharging ulcers, weak eyes, chronic Catarrh of the head, skin diseases, etc. This blighting disease being so firmly entrenched in the blood often attacks the bones, resulting in White Swelling, or hip disease, while a pallid, waxey appearance of the skin, loss of strength, and often lung affections show that the disease is entirely destroying the rich, nutritive qualities of the blood. There is but one way to cure Scrofula and that is to purify the blood and rid it of the germs of disease, and for this purpose nothing equals S. S. S.

Its purifying and building-up properties make it the ideal remedy for Scrofula. S. S. S. searches out and destroys all poisons and germs, gives strength, richness and vigor to the weak, polluted blood and cures Scrofula permanently. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable medicine, made from roots, herbs and barks and may be taken with absolute safety by young or old. It so thoroughly removes the poison from the blood that no signs of it are ever seen again and posterity is blessed with a pure blood supply. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired without charge.

TODAY'S GAMES.

Lancaster at Zanesville.
Youngstown at Akron.
New Castle at Sharon.

Poor management lost the game at Wehrle park Sunday afternoon to New Castle, giving them their eighth straight victory and the fourth from Newark. Probably the worst feature of the whole game was the fact that two thousand of the faithful fans of Newark all believing that Pitcher Linke would be in the box and Robinson on second, went out to Wehrle park in spite of the prediction of a local sport writer that if Newark lost three games to New Castle that there wouldn't be a baker's dozen at yesterday's game.

The fans were not disappointed in the second baseman. He was on deck as big as life, or rather as little as a midge, for he is short and small. It was his error in the seventh which scored one run in that frame and then the management had things to say.

Bates remarked after the game that it was generally the way when the company took the management out of the hands of the field general and hired a man whose record they knew not, that he would throw away the game. The little manager was clearly indignant at the action of the stockholders for their move and was free to express his disapproval of their action.

Bates, however, was not free from blame for the loss of Sunday's game. Linke was pitching great ball. This true that the Nocks touched him up for nine safe ones, but these were well scattered and with perfect fielding behind him, he would have easily won out. It was Bates' move to play Snodgrass at second, put Robinson in right field or perhaps put the extra catcher in the garden and Doyle behind the bat. As it was he sent Joe Doyle to right field and Doyle's first move was to drop a fly which cost a run. In the next frame he booted a hit from Linderman's stick and Lindy scored after two were gone in the third. Then the Silent Man was sent in and his first chance was booted in the seventh and that clincher cost two tallies. Bates' mistake was Newark's loss and Stetler's gain, for it only helped the Nocks to clinch their hold on that second place.

The first run for the Stetlerites came in the second frame. Smith singled and Brisbane sacrificed him and then Doyle dropped Schlatter's fly and Smitty scored. In the next frame after Pinkney was gone, Rudy was passed to first. Then Lindy hit a safe one to Doyle and he booted it, Linderman taking second on the play. Anderson dropped on a safe one and Lindy scored. Snow threw Rudy out at second and the side was retired on a similar play when Anderson tried to pilfer.

Newark got 'em all back in the third frame when Doyle led off with a single and went to second on a fielder's choice when Linke got to first on an error by Anderson. Davis hit a long fly to center and was out and Doyle scored. While Smith was displaying his throwing ability, Linke tried to take second but Lindy threw accurately and caught him at Pinkney's corner. Then Snyder dropped a fly in right which Brisbane juggled while Lefty trotted to second. Boten's long hit to left field scored Lefty, but Bo was caught at second when Rube Bowers took Rudy's throw and, heaved, it to Pinkney that closed the inning and Newark's run getting.

Newark lost the game and took the cellar championship when Schlatter walked in the seventh and was sacrificed to second by Big Rube. He tried to score on Hagen's safety to left but Snyder caught him at the plate while Hagen took second. With two gone, Pinkney hit a swift one to Wratten which he fumbled, allowing Hagen to take third. Rudolph got a pass to first and Robinson dropped Linderman's line drive, letting Hagen score. Anderson hit safely to right and Stone fumbled the ball and Pinky and Rudy scored. Wratten retired Smith at first and ended the agony, but too late, for Newark had lost the game.

Linke stopped another score in the sixth when after Lindy's double, Anderson attempted to bunt the ball but popped up and Linke caught it and threw, to second. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Rube Bowers pitched good ball and his good nature won for him the praise of the crowd. He kidded back and forth with the bleacherites and they like that.

Pitcher Peter Lahney was released upon the team's return Saturday night. Bates is sore and says that the Newark management will be sorry for their move before the season is very far advanced. Lahney has pitched in hard luck and has not been in condition since the season opened.

Pitcher Frank Grubbs was in uniform yesterday but did not work out as his arm was sore. He will probably show the Mansfield sluggers a few curves they have not yet seen, when they open here this afternoon.

The Nocks' heavy hitter, "Rudy" Rudolph, struck out the first time up he walked the next time and fanned again and then walked. He sent one to Robinson in the last frame and was out at first.

Snyder, generally a left handed hitter, batted right handed against Southpaw Bowers. This is Lefty's old trick.

The fans here hardly recognized their manager because since his last game at Wehrle park he has lost his mustache. Is that the reason Newark lost seven out of the last eight games?

Youngster Linke plays the game all the time. He backed Snodgrass nicely on each throw from the field. He also fielded his position thoroughly.

A fan remarked: "Wise may be black, and black may be wise, but in my opinion they are both very much on the 'yellow' order." This witicism came when Black's decisions were the worst and they were pretty bad some times.

It was poor coaching when Snodgrass was signaled to steal in the fourth. He should have been ordered to wait for a hit. The result was a put out at second. Wratts singled but was caught napping in the same inning at first.

The fans are anxious to see what Pitcher Kelb has up his sleeve. He was in uniform yesterday, but did not play.

Alfonso and His Bride

Character Sketch of Spain's Boy King and Princess Victoria Eugenie

Fun Loving Monarch, the Only Bourbon on a European Throne—Full of Life and Fond of Madcap Pranks—Cool When in Peril—Mixes Freely With His People, Who Love Him For His Kindness. His Bride a Court Beauty and Already Popular

THE king of Spain is to be married. Perhaps several thousand columns too much of gush have been printed about the affair, yet it is not without interest. The importance of the event does not lie in the young man himself, who seems ordinary enough, but in his position and in what he stands for. Nearly everybody gets married at least once, and nothing much is said about the matter, but everybody is not the symbol of a nation. Alfonso de Bourbon is an individual is a youth of fair education, of somewhat sporty proclivities and of quite a few very human impulses withal, but Alfonso XIII, king of Spain and with a formidable array of other more or less moribund titles, is quite another thing. He is the representative of some millions of human beings, and it is on their account that we consider him. Human brotherhood is about the most conspicuous and important fact in this our age, and it is because of our kindred feeling to the people of Spain, good and kindly for the most part, that we take cognizance of him who is their emperor. Personally most of us would prefer that the king business were ended everywhere, but each realm to its own taste.

Democracy to Conquer Nations.

Alfonso is the only Bourbon occupying a throne in Europe. France got rid of that tribe some time ago. It was not the family, however, against which France was rebelling, but the whole monarchist regime. She was no more happy under Louis Philippe or Napoleon the Little than she had been under the old dynasty. What she wanted men, that kind of blood is worth all it takes to make and replenish it, and of this the boy king of Spain seems to have his share. He keeps the dried up mummies about his court in a continual state of collapse because he insists on breaking through formalities and conventionalities. In other words, he is alive, and a live man is a joy anywhere, even on a Bourbon throne. Driving his automobile till he makes his courtiers gasp in fear of their lives, climbing mountains till he wears out guides, dancing all night in plebeian dance halls, doing kindly deeds to peasants, flouting his ministers if they do not please him, flirting with half of the princesses of Europe, playing madcap pranks, getting soldiers out at midnight to parade, showing an easy self possession in the face of attempts on his life, storming tempestuously when attempts are made to restrain him and generally enjoying life in spite of royal red tape, these are a few of the things by means of which this slim young king has set Spain and most of the rest of Europe agog.

Imitator of the Kaiser.

One of the king's fads is to carry a camera, with which he continually takes views of scenes and people. For another thing, he is a good shot and is particularly fond of hunting. He is democratic and goes about the streets of Madrid freely. He speaks four languages outside of his own, and his English is said to be almost without accent. He has made it a point to become versed in political economy and insists on familiarizing himself with all questions relating to his government.

any took several snapshots of a pretty American girl, who grew highly indignant, and rushing to the camera threw it on the ground with the ejaculation, "How dare you?" An attendant interposed and said, "Madam, this is the king of Spain." "It makes no difference who he is," said the irate young lady. "This is the seventh time he has photographed me. I call that insulting, and I want him to know it." Then the king got into the game. "Tell her we thought her remarkably pretty," he said to the attendant. "That's our excuse. Beg her pardon and say that after this the pictures shall not be developed." This occurrence not only reveals royal dexterity, but teaches us to appreciate the independence of the American girl.

"We Ought to Be Friends."

When young Alfonso visited one of the smaller Spanish towns the alcalde tried to deliver a laboriously prepared speech of welcome, but broke down and stammered lamely. The king waited one or two embarrassed moments, when with a merry smile he broke in: "You, Senor Alcalde, are evidently only a beginner in your trade of speechmaking, but, then, I am only a beginner also in my trade of being king. We ought to be friends."

While in Paris Alfonso asked the president of the chamber of deputies if he ever had to be severe in the exercise of authority. The president said that he had only applied the censure once or twice. "And for what reason?" inquired the king. "For speaking ill of the republic," replied the president. "Oh," said Alfonso, "if I applied the censure to all who speak ill of me I should have nothing else to do."

The king was greeted by one delegation in the French capital, all the members of which were decorated with the order of Charles IV. of Spain. "I see," he said, "that you all wear the same decoration that I do, but with this difference, gentlemen—that you have earned yours, whereas I got mine through no especial merit of my own."

Instances of His Kindness.

Alfonso on meeting some poor peasants on the road looking for work took them into his automobile, carried them to the next town and interceded in their behalf. At another time his car frightened a team of mules so that the driver was thrown out. Taking the man into his motor, Alfonso headed off and stopped the mules and saw the man again safely on his way. A poor woman on trying to hand the king a petition on the street was roughly handled by a policeman. Alfonso reproached the officer, spoke kindly to the woman and took the petition. When the young monarch heard that people were starving in Andalusia he gave up a projected tour to France and ordered that the money for the trip be used to buy bread for the needy. At the time the Madrid reservoirs broke Alfonso mounted a swift horse and rode to the scene of the disaster, helped organize the work of rescue, then rode back to the palace, where he was due to preside over a council of his ministers. As he seated himself at the head of the table the minister of the interior pompously began, "Sire, it is my sad duty to inform you that this morning a terrible accident"—"Never mind," said the king. "I was there." It is by such little deeds as these that Alfonso XIII has endeared himself to his people.

The king is only twenty years of age. He was born six months after the death of his father and thus was king from his birth, but until two years ago was under the regency of his mother, Queen Christina. Alfonso is really not a Spaniard at all, but is of French and Austrian descent. He is rather tall, but slight of build, quick and athletic. He rides well and is an adept at many sports. He is dark, with a bright eye, large nose, thick under lip and slightly receding chin. His face is amiable and, while slightly willful, is not particularly strong. But then he is young and may show more strength with age. Rulers, like whiskey, are better when old.

A Court Beauty.

The prospective queen of Spain is Princess Ena of Battenberg, niece of King Edward; also niece of Prince Louis, who brought a British fleet over here not long since. Ena has more names—Victoria, Julia, Eugenie and possibly some others. One of them she got from Queen Victoria, of whom she was a favorite grandchild. Another is from her godmother, ex-Queen Eugenie. The princess is eighteen and seems just a sweet, red cheeked, healthy English girl, who is nearly six feet in height and weighs almost 200 pounds. She is said to be a court beauty and is already popular in Spain. There are whispers that she was in love with a British nobleman, but that King Edward insisted on her becoming the wife of the Spanish king when the state of that young man's heart was made manifest. It is also related that Ena went on giving up her Protestant faith for that of Spain's king. There are doubtless heartbreaks even under royal purple. We have no right to assume, however, that there was such in this case, for on the surface all the royal wooing has gone as "merry as a marriage bell."

There seems something of poetic justice in the fact that a Battenberg should become a queen, for when Princess Beatrice married Henry of Battenberg all the courts of Europe thought the alliance beneath her. Henry's mother, you know, was not royal. Now that his child is to occupy a throne, the other royalties do not quite approve. By the way, Ena will be officially known as Queen Victoria. May she live up to the name.

All those who enjoy kindly weddings should make the most of the present event, for it is not impossible at no distant day the progress of the world will take us past that stage.

J. A. EDGERTON.

ALFONSO XIII. AND HIS QUEEN.

ed was a republic and she got it. When a people make up their minds to have a new deal in government they generally manage to have their way. It is about time for another revolution of the wheel in the direction of republicanism, and when it comes there will be several more thrones go down into the dust heap.

There are signs of that sort in Russia even now. Liberty does not go backward. Man is to come to his own and is to govern himself in all climes. Democracy, not only in politics, but in industry, is to conquer the nations. The world is to be republican. Traditions, forms, institutions and all else that stand in the way of individual evolution and social brotherhood must give way before the onward march of man. This will be true in Spain, let us believe, as it will be everywhere else. In the meantime, however, we must have Alfonsos, and these Alfonsos will give and be given in marriage.

Let it be said to the credit of the present occupant of the Spanish throne that he seems to be very much of a human being. He has red blood in his veins, which, after all, is the only sort of blood worth artery room in the human system. There is a tradition, it is true, about a sort of blood called "blue," which must stain his color from anemia—at any rate, it is not much esteemed by the twentieth century man and woman. The good old fashioned kind of life fluid that is pumped by a heart full of human kindness, that abounds with vitality and energy, that makes its possessor glad to be on earth and kindred to all of the sons of rather than to be content with the mere word of his ministers. He drove one unpopular cabinet from power, though at the time it was said that his reason for doing so was pique at the objection of the prime minister to the royal automobile scorching. At any rate, the act made him popular with the masses. He boxes, fences, plays billiards and makes love. He is said to be an admirer of Emperor William of Germany, whom he seeks to imitate. The greatest compliment ever paid Alfonso was that contained in the statement that he is more like an American boy than a king.

When visiting President Loubet of France a bomb was exploded near Alfonso's carriage, presumably by some of those anarchists who seek to amuse themselves by king killing. Turning to his attendants, Alfonso cried: "Reassure yourselves, gentlemen. This is nothing." Then to the frightened crowd he added: "Calm yourselves. This is nothing." Afterward he told President Loubet that this was the fourth attempt on his life.

At another time when the king was walking in the Prado a bull broke from the herd and scattered consternation among the pedestrians and equestrians. Quickly drawing a revolver, Alfonso laid the animal low by two or three well directed shots. This would not have been particularly remarkable in anybody else, but as the king did it society was set all a flutter. That bull should have felt highly honored in being the recipient of the royal bullets. Here is a kodak incident: Alfonso one

MODEL SCHOOL PLAN

Novel Features of Building to Be Erected in Chicago.

BEST ROOMS FOR THE TEACHERS

Big Lunchroom on the Top Floor and Bowling Alley in Basement—Gymnasium Two Stories High, With a Running Track—Architect and Teachers to Collaborate in Assembly Hall to Seat Twelve Hundred.

An ideal high school, equipped with every appliance and convenience which can add to the comfort and happiness of both pupils and teachers, is to be erected in South Chicago by the board of education, says the Chicago Tribune. Under the roof of the proposed "model high school" will be found everything from a rest room for the wearied teachers to bowling alleys for the recreation seeking pupils.

In building the high school no extravagance is to be allowed. The building when completed will cost no more than any of the other high schools which have been built recently. The luxuries will be in the arrangement. The school board's architect, Dwight L. Perkins, completed the rough drawings the other day, and before the final plans are drawn teachers and principals from all the high schools will be called into conference.

Principal Charles I. Parker had a conference with Architect Perkins and carefully went over the tentative plan. Mr. Parker urged that a bowling alley should be added.

"With tuberculosis everywhere, we should do all we can to give the boys and girls exercise which will develop their lungs," he declared. "The use of a bowling alley will give them splendid exercise, and it will keep the boys away from the saloons, where they are now compelled to go to bowl. It is no more wicked to roll balls down an alley than to run races around a track in the gymnasium."

The new high school already has been named after James H. Bowen. It will occupy the block along Eighty-ninth street between Marquette and Main streets. Its dimensions will be 293 feet by 314 feet, and it will cost approximately $400,000.

One of the distinctive features of the building will be the great lunchroom to be built on the top floor instead of in the basement, as in the other high schools. This school restaurant, the largest ever planned for a Chicago school, will seat comfortably 750 pupils.

The assembly hall, which will seat 1,200, is to be built on the ground floor in the middle of the building. It also will be provided with seven exits, and a gallery will run around it on the level with the first floor. The assembly hall will be equipped with a stage large enough to accommodate 100 pupils.

West of the lobby, on the main floor, will be the principal's reception room, private office and fireproof vault. To the east of the lobby will be the rest rooms for the teachers, one for the men teachers and one for the women.

The building will have eighteen large class rooms, which will be lighted on two sides—on the one side from a street and on the other from a large area. In the front of the building on each floor will be the laboratories. The gymnasium will be 48 by 112 feet. It will be two stories high, the second story being used for the running track. Over it, on the third story, will be the large rooms where drawing will be taught.

GOLFER'S RARE STROKE.

Made the Tenth Hole in 185 Yard Drive.

Walton L. Crocker recently accomplished a feat that has been unparalleled in ten years of golf at the Country club, Brookline, Mass., says a Boston special dispatch to the New York World. Driving from the ninth tee he sent his ball not only the true distance of 185 yards, but directly into the tenth hole.

But Mr. Crocker's joy was short lived. It is a rule of golf generally observed that a player making a hole in one stroke in a tournament has to treat all the other competitors. There were just 139 others in the tournament—the biggest field ever starting out at Clyde park—and when Mr. Crocker got through paying for refreshments it was dark, though the marvelous shot was made in the forenoon.

Firemen's "Roll of Honor."

An endeavor is being made in London to have placed in a prominent position in some public institution what is known as the firemen's "roll of honor." The roll is a present kept at Southwark Bridge road headquarters and is much prized by the men, says the London News. Upon the heavy oak framework are affixed small brass plates containing the names of the men who have lost their lives in fighting the flames.

Corn Exposition For Chicago.

The merchants of Chicago, through the Chicago Corn and Grain Association, have decided that a corn exposition, to be held from Sept. 23 to Oct. 11, will be held from Sept. 23 to Oct. 11. The association has voted to spend at least $50,000 on the exposition, and that a much larger amount will be necessary owing to the probability of other attractions being held.

FRISCO'S FIRE HEROES.

How They Fought For the City They Loved So Well.

In a letter to his sister, Katherine Russell of San Jose, Stephen Russell, a captain in the San Francisco fire department, deals with a particular feature of the recent disaster which has hitherto escaped attention, says the San Jose Mercury. Mr. Russell says:

"We will never be able to give any kind of a description approaching accuracy of the terrible scenes during the earthquake and for the three days following. As soon as possible after the shake I ascertained that all my family was uninjured. Then commenced our fight with the fire, which lasted amid harrowing and nerve racking scenes for fifty-two hours without intermission."

"It took two firemen to hold the hose while two more sheltered them with a wet blanket. And many, many times we would be down in the gutter and roll in the water, but it would not be two minutes till we were perfectly dry again. Our coats fell from our backs. Rubber coats lasted no length of time at all. Our caps were burned or baked on our heads. Our feet were blistered by the heat on the rubber boots. Yet every man fought on for fifty-two hours, when ordinarily a two hours' fight will exhaust a man. The doctors and nurses went up and down the line and injected strychnine into us, so we could go on. And one volunteer citizen, who had good judgment, went up and down the line with a sack and dipped it in the gutter, then applied it to the back of our necks. Many times we were trapped by the fire and could not get the horses to our engines, but always the citizens volunteered and pulled them out for us. The horses were exhausted also and could not pull the engines at times. One place in particular, up a steep hill, we put a rope on the engine and about 500 people got hold and dragged horses, engine and all up the hill. We had over half of our horse burned. And many of the men were delirious at times. We had no conception of time, and when I came to make out my report I called, my men in to help, and while one would be positive that a certain thing took place at 8 o'clock in the morning another would swear it was at 11 o'clock at night. It was as bright as day at all times. You can imagine how we fought, for we all loved San Francisco, and to see her go up in smoke nearly broke our hearts."

CARNEGIE MEDAL HEROINE.

Girl Saved Boy's Life by Sucking Rattlesnake's Poison From Wound.

Miss Lucy E. Ernst of Philadelphia is officially a heroine. She has been awarded a Carnegie medal for saving the life of her companion, Harry E. Schoenbut, also of Philadelphia, at the risk of her own by sucking the poison from a rattlesnake's bite on his arm, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger. The "hero commission" in session the other day in Pittsburgh formally awarded the medal to the pretty young woman and prepared a formal acknowledgment of her remarkable bravery. When told that she had been honored by the Carnegie commission Miss Ernst said:

"We were walking in a grove near the clubhouse at Porter's lake last summer searching for birch bark. Mr. Schoenbut, who was a short distance in front of me, staggered and fell. A rattlesnake had bitten his right arm. I cut away his sleeve, but the arm was already black, and a large sac had formed. I tried to suck the blood, but it wouldn't flow, so I cut his arm with my penknife and sucked all the poison out. He giggled so that I swallowed a mouthful myself. I succeeded in getting him to the clubhouse, where I gave him nearly a quart of whiskey. He was all right in a few days, but I was ill a week because of the poison I had swallowed. My lip was cut at the time, and the doctors cannot understand why I was not poisoned. I did not see the snake myself, but Mr. Schoenbut said it was a big one. He heard the rattle, but thought it was a locust. I am glad I did it, for the doctors said he certainly would have died."

Mr. Schoenbut is the sixteen-year-old son of Albert Schoenbut of Philadelphia. Miss Ernst is the only daughter of Bernard Ernst, select councilman.

A Soap Mountain in Nebraska. R. H. Mitchell, a ranchman who lives near Bel Air, Neb., has discovered on his ranch a small mountain of what he calls soap, says the Kansas City Star. Mitchell's "soap hill" is composed of a fine and very white sand which when mixed with powder looks and acts like one of the washing powders so common on the market. Mitchell says the people of his neighborhood have been making good use of his soap time, carting the stuff away for scrubbing floors, polishing metals and even for washing the hands. An effort will be made to market the "soap" as a ready made washing powder.

Cherries Dried Fifty Years Ago. Cherries dried by Mrs. Samuel Kauffman of Johnstown, Pa., fifty-two years ago are now being used in the making of pies that are as delicious as though the fruit were of but a season's growth, says the Johnstown Tribune. These cherries have retained the pips say the cherries are reminders of the patient work done by housewives half a century ago, when fruit was dried and preserved and not canned and unadorned.

Gold Safety Pins For Socks. One of the famous physicians in New York supports his socks with gold safety pins attached to his drawers, says the New York Press. The pins are set with diamonds and cost $300 each. He uses four. He would not wear a garter for a million dollars, regarding the "circular" as a hindrance to ample circulation.

THE DISCOVERER

Of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the Great Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

Yours for Health Lydia E. Pinkham

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles or such hosts of grateful friends as has

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacement, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life.

It has cured more cases of Backache and Local Weakness than any other remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors.

Irregular, Suppressed or Painful Periods, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility quickly yield to it. Deranged organs, causing pain, weight and backache, instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it invigorates the female system, and is as harmless as water. It quickly removes that bearing-down feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues" and headache. These are sure indications of female weakness, or some derangement of the organs, which this medicine surely cures. Chronic Kidney Complaints and Backache, of either sex, the Vegetable Compound cures. Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want—a cure. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutes.

H. A. ATHERTON HAS RESIGNED

AS SUPERINTENDENT OF THE NEWARK CITY STREET CAR LINES.

The Resignation Is to Take Effect Immediately—Mr. Atherton Began as a Motorman.

Mr. Gus Atherton, who a year ago succeeded Mr. F. L. Mowrey as superintendent of the Newark city street car lines, has tendered his resignation to General Manager Gibbs to take effect immediately.

Mr. Gibbs was out of the city Monday and could not be seen regarding the appointment of Mr. Atherton's successor.

The latter, during the time he has been superintendent of the Newark lines has rendered the best of service for the company, and most satisfactory to the public. He had been connected with the road for many years beginning as a motorman. He was always reliable and capable. His abilities being recognized he was finally made superintendent of the city system.

Mr. Atherton will take a vacation before seeking other employment.

NEW BUILDING TO BE ERECTED

MR. RICHARD DOLD WILL BEGIN TO BUILD THREE STORY STRUCTURE.

On the Site on West Main Street Recently Vacated by Bailey & Keeley.

Now that so many carpenters and contractors are busily engaged with the many improvements and completion of the numerous new buildings begun in the early spring, it is to be noted that West Main street is not being neglected in this respect. The latest announcement in this connection is to the effect that on the site of the building recently vacated by Bailey & Keeley who removed to their own new quarters, Mr. Richard Dold, who owns the property, will at once begin the erection of an elegant, modern, three story flat building.

W. C. Dahnke gets the contract for the work of construction and the plans were prepared by Architect Frederick H. Carlyle.

The new structure will be a great improvement to the appearance of West Main street at the corner of Fifth. It will be of pressed brick front, facing on West Main street, and will extend the entire distance of the property which is 42 feet in width by 50 feet in length.

When completed, the new building will contain two large store rooms on the first floor and on the second and third will be fitted eight suites of four rooms each, all arranged in the most modern style.

The total cost of the structure is estimated at $12,000 and it is to be completed within four and a half months.

HILDRETH TRIAL RESUMED

Mr. Vernon O. May 21.—The trial of Frank Hildreth alias Frank Cole, was resumed here this morning after several days delay caused by the illness of one of the jurors. The sick man was able to resume his place in the panel and the taking of the testimony was resumed.

Ex-Detective Sheriff John Graham, who was with Sheriff Shellenbarger when he was shot by Hildreth was on the stand Monday morning. He told to the court and jury a graphic story of the shooting from the viewpoint of an eye witness. On the cross-examination Graham's testimony remained unshaken.

David Graham, a plasterer with whom Hildreth lived was the chief witness of the afternoon. He was being examined at the time this special was filed.

The jury in the case visited one of the local churches Sunday and spent the afternoon about the hotel and taking their regular exercise.

NOTICE. All persons having furniture stored at Hildreth's store rooms must be paid up in full by June 2. 5-2-dif

JULIA MARLOWE
REPORTED ILL

New York, May 21.—Her Canadian tour with E. H. Southern interrupted, it was announced by illness, Miss Julia Marlowe arrived here Tuesday from Ottawa. She was met by friends and at once went in a carriage to her home in Riverside Drive.

All members of Miss Marlowe's party were most reticent regarding both her reported illness and rumors of a possible business breach between the actress and Mr. Southern. No one would make any statement on either report.

Miss Marlowe and Mr. Southern have been together for several years, playing principally in Shakespearean repertoire. They were to have begun a week's engagement in Ottawa Monday night, but Miss Marlowe left for New York on the five o'clock train. The Russell Theatre there was crowded, and it was announced that the audience could remain until after the first act and then ask for the return of their money if they desired. All remained through the play.

It is announced that Miss Marlowe and Mr. Southern are to open at the Academy of Music in Shakespearean plays a week from next Monday night. Whether the actress' continued illness will prevent, or whether it is true there is friction between the two stars was subject for much Rialto gossip.

MR. ASHBROOK ELECTED SECY.

OF THE ORDER OF GIDEONS AT THE STATE CONVENTION AT ZANESVILLE.

A. B. Skipton of Zanesville, is the New State President—Traveling Men in Convention.

At the state convention of the Order of Gideons which was in progress Saturday and Sunday in Zanesville, and in which the pastors of the various churches in the city of Zanesville took a very active part, A. B. Skipton of that place was chosen state president of the organization, and M. P. Ashbrook of Granville, was honored by being unanimously re-elected state secretary and treasurer.

The convention was attended by a large representation of traveling men from over the state, large delegations from Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis also being present.

Sunday morning the pulpits of all the churches of the city were filled by commercial traveling men and on Sunday afternoon a large mass meeting was held in the memorial hall, being addressed by Rev. Ross of the Zanesville Second Presbyterian church. In the evening all of the churches of the city closed and the members and pastors united in a large mass meeting at which the memorial hall was packed to its capacity. This meeting was in charge of the state president, A. B. Skipton. Rev. C. A. Bowen, pastor of the Moxahala M. E. church delivered the address of welcome to the pastors of the city and recommended their work. He was followed by Rev. Mr. Dowling of Columbus, who represented the Gideons.

Excellent music was furnished by quartets from Zanesville, Dayton and Toledo.

Ex-Detective Sheriff John Graham, who was with Sheriff Shellenbarger when he was shot by Hildreth was on the stand Monday morning. He told to the court and jury a graphic story of the shooting from the viewpoint of an eye witness. On the cross-examination Graham's testimony remained unshaken.

WITH REUNION
ENDS ROMANCE

FATHER AND DAUGHTER MEET
AFTER TWENTY-FIVE YEARS SEPARATION.

Neither Had Seen the Other Since the Daughter Was Four Years Old.
Affecting Scene.

Cambridge, May 21.—The reunion of a father and daughter who had not seen each other for 25 years was the touching scene witnessed by a number of passengers at the C. & M. station last Friday. The man, it appears, was T. H. Bragg of Cambridge and the daughter for whom he was looking was Mrs. Louis Duniver of Topeka, Kas. For purpose of identification each wore a small bow of red ribbon. And the reuniting of father and daughter when the train pulled in was most touching.

Around this reunion clusters a little romance. Twenty-nine years ago Mr. Bragg and his first wife were married eloping from this city to West Alexander, Pa., where the ceremony was performed. After the marriage they learned that an error had been made and that it was impossible for them to live together. However, they did live together just one year, and then separated. Later on Mr. Bragg secured a divorce, being awarded the little daughter, then about four years of age. When the daughter was about four years of age the father placed her in the care of her grandparents, who were going west, and as the years passed the little girl grew to womanhood and became the mistress of her own home. About two years ago Mr. Bragg sent letters and advertised in western papers for the whereabouts of his daughter. Last March he was able to locate her. Recently the daughter expressed a desire to see her father and it was finally decided that she should come here, with the result that she arrived Friday evening.

THE BREWERIES
MAY CUT PRICES

Columbus, May 21.—Columbus breweries are thought to be contemplating reducing the price of beer to retailers, in the hope of aiding the latter to pay the $1000 tax for the privilege of doing business. Saloon keepers it is known, are expecting some concessions on the part of the manufacturers, and it was intimated yesterday that unless this action was taken voluntarily by the breweries the saloon keepers would join in a concerted movement to enforce their demands.

The retailers, many of whom are barely able to make a living, and few of whom ever become wealthy declare that the profits of the brewers are disproportionately large and that beer which costs only $1.75 to manufacture is sold to them for $7. They are expecting that the price will be reduced to as low as $5. C. C. Born declared Sunday night that he knew nothing of any such proposed action on the part of the brewers of the city. He further said that the impression that it costs only $1.75 to manufacture a barrel of beer is erroneous, and that the cost is more nearly $3 or $3.50.

SPECIAL MEETING. The Newark Liquor League will meet tomorrow (Tuesday) at two o'clock, at Druids' Hall. All saloon keepers are invited. Frank Catt, President.

FLOWERS. A new line just received at H. L. JACOBS & Co., 5 and 10c store, 23 South Park Place.
